

THE LINCOLN GREEN BY DESIGN PARTNERSHIP PRESENTS:

WHAT CAN A GREEN BUILDING PROGRAM DO FOR YOU?

THURSDAY, AUGUST 23
3 TO 5 P.M.

GREAT PLAINS ART MUSEUM
UNIVERSITY OF NEBRASKA-LINCOLN
1155 Q ST, HEWIT PLACE, LINCOLN, NE

Moderated by W. Cecil Steward, dean emeritus of the UNL College of Architecture and president of the Joslyn Institute for Sustainable Communities, seminar presenters include Peter Hind of the American Institute of Architects-Lincoln and Tim Hemsath of the US Green Building Council, Flatwater Chapter.

- What will a green building program do for the City of Lincoln?
- What have other programs accomplished around the country?
- How can you help make Lincoln a greener community?

This is the first in a series of free, public seminars sponsored by the Lincoln Green by Design partnership.
